

What is a bundle ?

📄 1211 📅 Jul 18, 2023 📁 Bundles lines, Salary types

An employee's bundle is a subset of salary types , which define how his or her salary is calculated. The bundle of an employee paid by the month, for example, will be different from that of an employee paid by the hour.

A bundle is generally made up of "fixed" salary types only, i.e. those calculated for each pay form. Variables are entered separately.

To make it easier to assign a set of salary types to an employee, Office Maker Staff provides you with predefined salary type sets.
